A search engine's results may vary

- In content and presentation
- From one minute to the next
 - different server being used
- Country versions
 - different emphasis
 - local content
 - different interface
 - different search features
- Different 'brands'
 - Live.com, Tafari
 - Yahoo, Yahoo Alpha, AlltheWeb
 - Exalead, Baagz

Google

- Number of hits is often fictional
- Thousands of different servers around the world, running different versions of the database, search features and ranking algorithms
- Google experiment
 - `site:www.charity-commission.gov.uk "makes grants to organisations"`
 - posted to several discussion lists, results from 157 people
 - majority were 40500, 48600, 49000 hits
 - a handful reported ca 22000
 - Google Canada 5400
 - many displayed 78 results
 - “repeat search with omitted results” - ca 250 results

Limiting searches to country or region

- Country option in general web search engines looks at
 - domain name
 - the IP address and location of the web site
 - sometimes the language
- Yahoo region command
 - Inherited from Inktomi
 - region:
 - e.g. region:europa, region:mediterranean
 - others are africa, asia, centralamerica, northamerica, southamerica, mideast, southeastasia, downunder

Increase the number of results displayed

- Go into preferences and increase the number of results that you display per page from 10 to 50 or 100
- Beats the SEO
- Beats the search tools own 'preferred' sites
- Beats the undocumented enhanced page rankings

Standard search features

- By default, all of the major search tools currently look for all of your terms in a page
- Use double quote marks around phrases
 - e.g. “climate change”
- To exclude pages containing a term, precede the term with a minus sign (-)
 - can also exclude sites from your search using minus and the site command, for example –site:rubbishsite.co.uk
- Use OR for alternative terms
 - e.g. oil OR petroleum
 - OR must be in capital letters

General techniques

- Imagine what you would like to appear in your ideal document and include those terms in your strategy
- Partially answer your question in your strategy
 - "most active volcano in the world is"
- Use the file formats and domain search to refine your search

Date searching

- General Web search
 - Unstructured data – no separate ‘date published’ field or metadata
 - Date is not the date on which the information was collected, generated or originally published.
 - The date used is the one when the information was loaded or re-loaded onto the web site
- Google Scholar, Advanced Search, year published, does not use publishers’ metadata
 - picks up any number anywhere in the document that matches the numbers you type into the publication years
- Academic Live Advanced Search, year published does use publishers’ metadata

- Advanced Search screens can help but command line enables you to build up more complex searches
- For example:
 - "oil production" forecasts 2007..2020 site:gov filetype:ppt OR filetype:pdf
- Learn which search engines support which Boolean operators
 - Yahoo, Exalead and Live support AND, OR , NOT and nested searches (parentheses) but don't go overboard!
- Take care...

Google oddity

Why does

`site:charity-commission.gov.uk grants`
give 2160 results

and

`Site:charity-commission.gov.uk grants`
give:

Your search - Site:charity-commission.gov.uk grants - did not match any documents.

Suggestions:

- ◆ Make sure all words are spelled correctly.
- ◆ Try different keywords.
- ◆ Try more general keywords.
- ◆ Try fewer keywords.

Site:charity-commission.gov.uk grants

- When the results are displayed click on Advanced Search

The screenshot shows the Google Advanced Search interface. On the left, the Google logo is displayed. To its right, the text 'Advanced Search' is shown in a blue header bar. Below this, there are four radio button options for finding results: 'with all of the words', 'with the exact phrase', 'with at least one of the words', and 'without the words'. To the right of these options are four input fields. The first field contains the word 'grants'. The second field contains the text 'Site charity commission gov'. The third and fourth fields are empty.

Google sees the capital 'S' and the hyphen in charity-commission and thinks the site search is a phrase search!

Proximity searching

- Double quote marks around your terms searches for them as an exact phrase match
 - “climate change”
- Google
 - use the asterisk (*) to stand in for one or more terms
 - climate * change
- Exalead
 - NEAR finds words within 16 words of one another
 - NEAR/n finds words within the specified number of words of one another
 - climate NEAR/4 change
